

FROHMAN SHOWS TO BE CONTINUED

Famous Producer Died Intestate, But Brother Will Carry on His Work—Will Retain All Stars.

NEW YORK, June 7.—Charles Frohman died intestate according to his brother, Daniel, Sunday. It was his wish that theatrical enterprises that had made the name of Frohman famous be continued as though nothing had happened.

"I spoke to my brother several times about a will," said Daniel Frohman, "but his invariable reply would be, 'There is no use of my making a will. If anything should happen to me things must go on just as though I were alive.'"

"Just before he sailed on the Lusitania he spoke of a will. He told me that he would never make one. He said and not without reason, that he could see no reason for making a will. The theatrical and producing business, you know, is one that is hard to estimate from a standpoint of financial worth. There are seasons when conditions will be responsible for the failure of productions that under different circumstances would be tremendous successes. Therefore one cannot say that a production will be worth so much tomorrow or next year. It may be worth thousands of dollars or may be valueless."

"All our stars will be retained for next season. And the productions we contemplated will be produced just as though nothing had happened. Our theaters will run on the same plan and basis as heretofore. It would cause my brother the greatest anguish were he to know that it would be otherwise. His personal estate is comparatively small. It remains in the family."

It is generally conceded in theatrical and dramatic circles that Charles Frohman's assets were principally based on the intangible features of productions over which he gained control. Starting with "Shenandoah" in 1887 he made much money as his successes outnumbered his failures greatly. But he was always pouring his surplus earnings into new productions and continually investing in the coming season.

The Duke of York's theater was his only London playhouse when he died on the Lusitania. It is declared in London that his assets there are quite as intangible as in America.

HOW TO BE SLIM

By Winifred Grace Forrest.

If you are too fat and want to reduce your weight 15 or 20 pounds, don't starve and weaken your system, or think you must always be laughed at on account of your fat, but go to any good druggist and get a box of Oil of Koresin capsules, take one after each meal and one before retiring at night.

Weigh yourself once a week and note what much money as his successes outnumbered his failures greatly. But he was always pouring his surplus earnings into new productions and continually investing in the coming season.

It costs little, is absolutely harmless and I am sure a week's trial should convince you that it is unnecessary to be burdened with even a single pound of unsightly fat.

"TIZ" GLADDENS SORE, TIRED FEET

No puffed-up, burning, tender, sweaty feet—no corns or callouses.

"TIZ" makes sore, burning, tired feet fairly dance with delight. Away go the aches and pains, the corns, callouses, blisters, bunions and chilblains.

"TIZ" draws out the acids and poisons that puff up your feet. No matter how hard you work, how long you dance, how far you walk, or how long you remain on your feet, "TIZ" brings restful foot comfort. "TIZ" is magical, grand, wonderful for tired, aching, swollen, smarting feet. Ah! how comfortable, how happy you feel. Your feet just tingle for joy; shoes never hurt or seem tight.

Get a 25 cent box of "TIZ" now from any druggist or department store. End foot torture forever—wear smaller shoes, keep your feet fresh, sweet and happy. Just think! a whole year's foot comfort for only 25 cents.

Circus Lady Trips the Tango With Great Big Healthy Lion

Who would dare to dance the tango with a full grown lion? All applications must be handed in to Mme. Adgie, who will make her appearance here with the Barnum & Bailey circus Friday, June 11. It could properly be called a "lionine dansant."

"I love my boys," says Mme. Adgie. "They are so gentle and affectionate. They are Teddy and Brutus and Caesar, all big, healthy children, and they love me so very much. The others do, too, but these three show me the most marked attention."

Mme. Adgie is a wiry little woman with piercing black eyes and quick of movement.

MME. ADGIE.

"I have been with lions," she said, "since I was 10 years old, and I'd like nothing better than to have 20 or 30 of the 'boys' playing and performing about me. But under no consideration will I permit an outsider to take part in any of my lion exhibitions. There is always an element of danger, even when the lions are playful. I've been scratched by their paws, but I consider them love taps."

Imagine being a healthy, playful young girl and having real jungle lions to play with instead of dolls. Teddy bears, tabby cats and that sort of thing? But this has been precisely true in the case of Mme. Adgie. She says her earliest strong desire was to travel with a circus. When her parents gratified her wish she took up the training of a lion. When she was 15 she was training half a dozen of them. Just now she has nine animals under her control and she is one of the features of the big show.

"Afraid?" she said in reply to the question. "I should say not. If I had the slightest fear I would not more think of entering the cage than of trying to swim the Atlantic."

"Honestly, every time I go in with the lions I look each of them straight in the eyes, and the 'boys' sit there or stand motionless for a second or two, looking at me with big, expressive eyes as though they wanted to say: 'My dear, we love you and wouldn't harm you for anything because you are not afraid.'"

"They love music. The moment the circus band crashes out the 'boys' fairly dance about in playful gloe. Some time you should notice what a wonderful effect the strains of 'The Rosary' have upon Teddy when he first enters the ring.

"We are one big family, happy and contented. Our happiness now is complete because we are with the circus. That is the life for us. My biggest feature this year is the tango with the lions."

IS YOUR NAME IN THE LIST BELOW?

If it is, you are invited to the next News-Times Birthday Party. Trips to all theaters and refreshments will be on the program.

The News-Times birthday party is open to all school children of South Bend and Mishawaka in both the public and private schools, regardless of whether their parents are subscribers or not. Co-operating with The News-Times in giving the children these series of treats are the Orpheum, Majestic, Colonial, LaSalle and Surprise theaters and The American Drug Co. Hundreds of children have been made happy since we inaugurated this little plan and hundreds will be made happy in the future. The entertainment is absolutely free of cost or obligation. The child's name is published in The News-Times on the date of his birthday. On the Saturday following such publication the child comes to the circulation department of the paper and is given a coupon ticket which entitles him to admission to the Orpheum, LaSalle, Colonial, Surprise and Majestic theaters and a treat at the fount of the American Drug Co. Children living 10 or more blocks from the office are given a car ticket home.

Besides publishing each day the names of children whose birthdays occur on that date, we publish at least five names of children whose birthdays occur on each date. These names are taken at random and we advise a careful watch of the daily announcements, as the "lucky ones" will receive two treats instead of one.

NEW SONG WITH QUAIN MELODY

Odd Ballad Said to Contain Many Pretty Strains.

A new song now popular in New York, entitled "Virginia Lee," has just reached this city and is already being sung by some of the fair sex. While the words tell the same old love-tale as in popular songs, the music is rather pretty and has a very haunting swing. The song was written by Jeff Brannen, author of "In the Valley of the Moon" and other songs. Here is a part of the chorus:

VIRGINIA LEE

The chief cause of the song's popularity is that there is no suggestive or unclean idea in its text, but a sort of refined theme that appeals to women, and because it is written in a range easy to sing.

House of the Lost Court." It is an English story, with earls and dukes, soldiers and royal ladies and the romantic interest is sustained at all times. In the cast is Helen Strickland, a Benton Harbor girl.

Wednesday's feature is Mrs. Leslie Carter in "The Heart of Maryland."

AT THE COLONIAL.

"The Diamond from the Sky," chapter four, will be shown at the Colonial today. Further adventures of those in pursuit of the wonderful gem are recorded. The hero is rescued after his fall over the cliff; the diamond is pawned; it is worn to a ball by a handsome woman; it disappears and the search continues. The principal roles are played by Lottie Pickford and Ralph Cummings. On the same program will be seen a three reel drama, "The Mother of Men."

Tuesday's program features "The Other Girl" and on Wednesday Robert Edson will be seen in "Man's Perseverance."
